YOUNGSTOWN BANK ROBBED BY 3 THUGS

Teller is Bound and Money Drawers Are Rifled

BANDITS ESCAPE WITH $2,000

Hunted by Three Poses But no Trace is Found

YOUNGSTOWN — (Associated Press) — Three bandits held up the Elm Street branch of the Dollar Savings and Trust Co., here today, bound the teller, and escaped with about $2,000 in cash.

The robbers headed north from Youngstown in an automobile.

Vernon Williams, the teller who was alone in the bank, said that the three asked for change for a $10 bill. As he reached for the change he said all three drew revolvers and told him to throw up his hands.

When he complied they took him into a back room and bound him, searching his clothes and taking a gold watch and some money. Then Williams said, they rifled the money drawers and escaped. A depositor came in 10 minutes later and released Williams.

Three posses returned at noon without having found any trace of the bandits. The posses had covered three routes, one into Pennsylvania thru Sharon, another toward Cleveland, and the third to Warren. The bandits escaped in a black sedan.

No one noticed the license.

AERIAL COUPE OFF TO LOS ANGELES

Freight and Passenger Ship Leaves Dayton for West

DATTON.—(Associated Press.)—With ideal flying weather in prospect all day, the O-5 aerial coupe, carrying passengers and a cargo of freight, left this morning at 7:30 o'clock for Los Angeles, with Howard Rinehart in the pilot's seat.

The flight which began this morning, sets a new mark in aerial transportation as the first freight and passenger ship to leave carrying freight from the middle west for the Pacific coast. The freight consignment is from the Ery Registry Co. of Dayton.

The pioneer freight shipment by air developed from a suggestion carried on an address by Assistant Secretary of War Davis while in Dayton last week when he stressed the need for support from business organizations for commercial air companies.

It is expected that the plane will reach Iowa City for the night, proceeding from there over the established air routes of the United States Aerial Mail Service, Omaha, North Platte, Rock Springs, Cheyenne, Salt Lake, Reno, San Francisco, thence to Los Angeles.

With good weather prevailing, Pilot Rinehart expects to land his passengers and freight cargo in Los Angeles in about two weeks for the fastest trans-continental freight to make the trip.

CYCLEPLANE DECLARED SUCCESS AFTER TEST

4 Votes Elect Allen-Co's Third Girl Constable

A third woman constable for Allen-Co materialized Tuesday, when returns from American-tp to the election board certified Miss Nina Huffer, Elida, as one of the two candidates elected.

The office sought Miss Huffer, as she had no idea of campaigning for the place. Voters wrote her name on the ballot. She received 4 votes. Two other candidates received 2 each and a third candidate led the field with 31.

The line-up of feminine law enforcement officers in the county now includes Miss Gertrude Miller, Lima; Miss Mary Roush, Bath; and Miss Nina Huffer, Elida.

Some question regarding Miss Huffer's right to serve has been raised because she officiated as clerk of elections. Had she campaigned for the office election board officials say she automatically would have been disqualified. Because she made no effort however, may be allowed to serve.

Y. W.'S' CAMPAIGN BEGINS MONDAY

Lima Association Organizes to Reach $16,000 Goal

12 TEAMS TO TAKE FIELD

No Outside Director Will Be Employed for Drive

Lima Young Women's Christian Association Monday will start the annual campaign to raise $16,000 which is to be used to finance the work of the association for another year, Mrs. H. M. Crawford, general chairman of the campaign, announced Tuesday.

Opening of the campaign will be observed with a dinner for all workers to be held at Trinity M. E. church Monday at 6 p. m. More than 150 women will attend and will include the 12 teams, each team with about 15 members, and two teams representing the employed girls of the city.

In order to carry on its work each year it is necessary that the Y. W. C. A. have a budget of $28,000. The association, however, has an annual income of $12,000, which leaves $16,000 to be solicited.

Those who will assist Mrs. Crawford in the campaign are: Mrs. O. N. Young, assistant general chairman; Mrs. Clem Baxter, captain of team captains; Miss Ruth Seymour, general secretary. Mrs. D. J. Cable is president of the board of directors.

READY RESPONSE SEEN
Mrs. Crawford stated that no campaign director from out-of-town will be employed this year, the association feeling that their efforts will meet with a ready response on the part of those interested in the work it is doing.

Enthusiasm marks preliminary plans for coming campaign, and already more than $300 has been subscribed. This liberal donation was given by the employed girls of Lima at a dinner meeting held by them Monday night and attended by 30.

Edna Kieger and Lula Wade will each captain a team composed of employed girls, and who will solicit the 3,000 or 4,000 employed girls of the city. Fifty girls already have been lined up for these teams.

At the meeting Monday the employed girls declared they are the real benefactors of the association, and they feel the teams of Lima women who will solicit for funds next week are working for them.

5 TRUCKLOADS OF WHISKY TAKEN BY GANGSTERS

BALTIMORE — Armed whisky bandits numbering about 25, today raided the Gwynnbrook Distillery at Gwynnbrook, a suburb of Baltimore, and are reported to have secured about five truckloads of whisky.

State police, city police and police of Baltimore-co, in which the distillery is located, have formed a cordon on important roads leading from Baltimore to try and apprehend the men.

Four government guards at the distillery were overpowered. The first men tied up two guards on the outside of the distillery and gaining entrance tied up the other two. All four were then handcuffed together in a circle.

LIMA BOOSTS AREA OF CITY BY 245 ACRES

Commission's Action Annexes Three Parcels of Land

FOURTH SECTION EXCLUDED

Rules Are Suspended to Pass Ordinance at Once

Extension of the city limits on the west and to the north to add 245.62 acres of land to the present city area was provided for by the city commission Monday night thru passage of an ordinance annexing three connecting parcels of land to the city. The three parcels which were taken in include the following boundaries:

First: 57.82 acres bounded on the north by a line running north from Ferman-av; on the east by Cole-st, on the west by Woodlawn-av, and on the south by the first alley south of Rice-av.

Second: 138.78 acres bounded on the north by Robb-av; on the east by Metcalf-st as far as Murphy-st, thence across Murphy-st to a line west of Baxter-st; thence south on that line to a few feet south of Ewing-av; thence west on a line to the east side of Charles-st and north on the east side of Charles-st to Robb-av.

THIRD SECTION
Third: 49.02 acres bounded on the north by Northern-av as extended; on the east by the first alley west of West-st; on the south by Robb-av, and on the west by the east line of Metcalf-st.

When the annexation of this territory was first discussed there was a larger parcel of land just west of the second section annexed Monday night which was included in the original plan. But the whole plan with this fourth parcel in it was rejected by the city commission. The western boundary line of the second parcel given above was then reformed according to the lines as shown above and with this change the entire territory was acceptable to the city commission.

In order to hurry along the annexation proposition, the rules were suspended and the ordinance placed on its final passage Monday night. It becomes effective in the usual time allowed by law, which is ten days from passage by the commission.

BUS INJUNCTION GETS SETBACK

Appellate Court to Hear Case Lost by Striking Carmen

Possibility of the resumption of motor bus transportation in Lima was seen Tuesday in the admission by the court of appeals, of the injunction proceedings instituted by the Lima Street Railway, against carmen and others, for rev. or error.

The case will be taken up de novo, or as new, counsel for the striking carmen asserted Tuesday. Bond was given in the sum of $200.

Appeal in the case, it was stated, temporarily, sets aside the injunction obtained by the street car system before Judge H. A. Miller.

COUNSEL OF THE BUSINESS asserted that in their opinion, their clients can resume operation while the appeal is pending.

Whether this will be done has not been decided, counsel declared.

Carmen, it was stated, are inclined to await permission of the public utilities commission to operate. They hope to obtain a permit under the Freeman-Collier act within a few weeks.

Diplomacy Wins Parking Measure Another Booster

Diplomatic talk usually brings results. Tuesday an indignant lady shopper from Bluffton entered police headquarters with a traffic tag in her hand.

She demanded to know what right the department had to tag her automobile when she was a stranger in the city and didn't know the traffic regulations.

Desk Officer Cook talked to her after she had her say and she went away in favor of the two hour parking law because it was explained that the time limit method was the only way the city could provide parking space for visitors.

SUSPECT IS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Man Investigated Regarding Murder is Bound Over

PRISONER DENIES CHARGES

Claims He Was Victim Instead of Robbery Offender

James Miller, colored, suspected murderer, captured here Saturday night while staging an alleged hold-up in an alley near 326 N. Central-av, was bound over to the grand jury Tuesday under $500 bail on a charge of assault with intent to rob.

Claims that he was the victim of the holdup instead of the assailant were made by Miller at his arraignment before Judge Neil R. Poling in criminal court.

Story of Walter Miller, 17, colored of Atlanta, Ga., and Policeman James were told in court. The police officer said he heard the cries for help and saw the two men standing about 10 feet apart, James Miller holding a revolver.

FLASHED HIS ROLL
The colored boy, who is under jurisdiction of juvenile authorities, claims James Miller followed him after he had flashed a roll in a S. Union-st. billiard room, grabbed him around the neck, stuck a gun against his head and pulled the trigger but the shell did not explode.

He said he was nearly choked and was bitten several times by his assailant who demanded his money under threat of death.

The prisoner denied Miller's testimony in substance but admitted the truth of James' statement. He told the court Miller held him up and in the tussle in the alley he gained possession of the revolver which was taken by police and used as evidence.

The prisoner was unable to post bail and commitment papers will be prepared, sending him to the county jail.

In the meantime police are investigating the record of the prisoner who it is said, bears a decided likeness to Lewis Jackson, alias "The Sharper" wanted in Kentucky for murder.

Bertillon measurements taken Monday were forwarded to the scene of the killing and word is expected here within the next few days.

LOS ANGELES.—(Associated Press.)—Richard F. Nagle, 45, of Columbus, Ohio, was shot and killed here early this morning by two bandits as he was driving towards Los Angeles from Culver City, a suburb with his brother, Edward Nagle, a Culver City real estate man, who was slightly wounded.

The bandits obtained $500, the proceeds of an American Legion carnival held at Culver City.

The bandits fired three shots without warning after trailing the Nagle car from the carnival grounds into Los Angeles, according to the police.

COL. CHARLES R. FORBES

Former Director of Veterans' Bureau Answers Accusers

PLOT TO RUIN HIM, HE SAYS

Takes Stand in Own Defense, Makes Flat Denial

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press) — "A conspiracy to encompass my destruction by means of perjury and the suppression of material facts and documents," was charged by Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, in testimony today before the senate veterans committee.

Taking the stand in his own defense before a crowded committee room, the former director entered a "general, sweeping and absolute denial" of charges made by other witnesses reflecting upon his honesty.

The denial was directed at the witness said, against "every charge, statement, innuendo and insinuation which in any manner whatsoever reflects upon the honesty and integrity of any official or personal conduct while I occupied the office of director of the veterans' bureau."

Most of the charges in the administration of the law providing for relief to disabled veterans, he declared, "had been due to political and savoring."

He was referring to Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, personal friend and physician of President H. C. Hughes.

Forbes then flatly denied the statement made before the committee by Dr. Sawyer that he was dismissed by President Harding for insubordination in connection with the sale of surplus property at Perryville, Md.

"Long before the president finally decided to issue his second temporary order stopping the delivery of goods at Perryville," the former director said, "I frankly told the president that I could not continue to serve if General Sawyer was to continue in my office, and it became simply a choice between Sawyer and myself and I relieved the president of any possible embarrassment by tendering my resignation."

KEEPS HANDS OFF

U. S. Will Not Join Allies in Protest to Germany

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press) — President Coolidge believes the traditional policy of the American government would preclude it from joining with the allied governments in protesting to Germany against the return of Crown Prince Frederick William or his father, the former emperor, or in measures to prevent the re-establishment of the monarchy.

The chief executive feels that the United States should abide by its long established tenet that any nation is within its right in establishing whatever form of government it desires.

The allied governments, in the view of officials here, have a right and a duty and the treaty of Versailles to protest and take such measures as they deem desirable. The United States not being a party to the treaty, is under no such obligation.

FIRE DANGER IS AVERAGE, REPORT SAYS

Chief Hazards Have Been Corrected by Authorities

BLAZE THREATENS HOTEL

Patrons Driven Out Into Night by Flames and Smoke

Completion at noon Tuesday of inspection of 13 Lima public schools brought announcement from Deputy State Fire Marshal Basinger that the general condition of school buildings is as good as any he has ever inspected.

"A bad condition existed at Horace Mann school," Basinger said, "but since coal has been removed from the heating pipe and the board of education has agreed to cover the pipe with asbestos practically all hazards have been eliminated."

Questionable conditions were found at Faurot school but no pressure was exerted by the state as this building is to be closed after this fiscal school year.

CONDITION REMEDIATED
With but two fire exits at South High school considerable time is required in emptying the building of the 1,200 students. This is only temporary and when the new additions are completed there will be six exits in case of fire.

"Cleanliness of buildings and efficiency in fire drills were outstanding features discovered in the two days' investigation."

Basinger said the schools are surprisingly clean and in fire drills the Lima students show the result of careful and diligent training of teachers.

At South High school 1,200 students lined up at the building in three minutes thru the two exits. Seven hundred students at Whittier school left the building in one minute and at Lowell building only 50 seconds were required to clear the building.

PROBE CONTINUED
Central High school and Jefferson building are to be inspected Wednesday along with parochial schools, ending the state probe here.

Washington school, where Chief Mack reported a defect in the heating system, the hazard had been removed and the school passed inspection.

Change of electric wires at several buildings were recommended by Basinger, who inspected Washington building, Lincoln, Whittier and Emerson buildings Tuesday afternoon.

Nine schools were visited Monday and others, including the parochial schools, were slated for inspection Tuesday.

General condition is up to state fire regulations, Deputy Basinger announced at the completion of his first day's probe, which culminated as the result of three school fires within 10 days, two of which were caused by defective heating systems, according to reports.

REPORT TO BE MADE
Complete recommendations of changes to be made immediately, will be made to the school board by the state inspector upon completion of his probe, he announced Monday.

Guests at the Alta hotel, Main and Kibbys, were forced to flee to the streets in their night clothes at 2 a. m. Tuesday by fire which threatened the three story stone building.

Fire originated in the Webb-Bailey billiard parlor and bowling alley. A carelessly thrown cigarette in the pin setter's pit is believed by Fire Chief Mack to have caused the blaze.

The entire lower floor was a mass of flames and hotel rooms were filled with smoke when fire departments arrived. Some of the guests had sought safety on the street and others were routed out of their rooms by Chief Mack.

DENSE SMOKE
Dense smoke blocked firemen in their first fight to extinguish the flames which spread over the entire lower floor. Four lines of hose were laid by the five fire companies which answered the alarms. Companies 1, 2, 3, 5 and 6 responded, leaving one company at Central headquarters.

Fire was extinguished in less than one hour after the alarm was received. No definite estimate of damage has been given but the loss is expected to amount to considerable.

MORE GAS IS DUE FOR SOUTH SIDE

City Commissioners and Firm Reach Agreement

Residents of the south side of the city will be in line to get a larger supply of natural gas this winter as the result of an agreement reached Monday night between the city commissioners and the Lima Natural Gas Co. whereby the company will span S. Main-st bridge with its gas mains.

Discussion revealed the fact that the company now has a dead end main that closes to within 40 feet of the east side of the S. Main-st bridge and also a dead end line which comes within 40 feet of the west side of the same bridge. The company asked permission to construct an eight inch gas line under the coping of the bridge to connect these two dead ends. Commissioners were agreeable to the proposition and instruction left in the office of the city manager to grant the necessary permit.

TRAPS OILED FOR FUR ANIMALS

Thursday, Nov. 15 Opens Season for Several Creatures

Trappers are repairing, oiling and baiting their traps, and getting ready to run lines in the woods and along the streams through Allen-co. The fur harvest will commence Thursday Nov. 15, and by the time the season is a half dozen hours old traps will be planted at every advantageous point, ready to capture whatever game wanders into the steel jaws.

Open season of fox, raccoon, opossum, skunk, mink and muskrat, begins Thursday and with exception of mink and muskrat expires Feb. 1. The two latter animals may be trapped up to March.

Fox, opossum, skunk, mink and muskrat are largely taken with traps. Raccoon are hunted mostly at night with packs of coon hounds who scent out the game and drive it up a tree.

Owing to an epidemic of Hog Cholera on the surrounding farms I take this manner of notifying the public that hunting is not allowed on the Culp Farms near Hume.

BINGHAM GOES TO CONVENTION

City Manager Pays Way, Uses Part of His Vacation

City Manager C. A. Bingham has gone to Washington, D. C., to attend the tenth annual national convention of city managers which opens there Tuesday afternoon. Bingham is one of the past presidents of the national organization and is to direct one of the national council round tables dealing with municipal questions, the program shows.

Manager Bingham not only is paying all of his own expenses but is using part of his vacation time for attendance at the convention. There are 338 cities which now have the city manager-commissioner form of government and whose managers are members of the national association.

So far as is known Bingham is the only city manager who is paying his own expenses. There is an appropriation item of $75 for such expenses but Bingham would not use it without the consent of all city commissioners and one, Commissioner Rohm is said to have refused.

The program shows that the biggest question to be discussed is that of financing municipalities and Bingham expects to get some valuable ideas on the subject for use in this city the balance of the year.

WILSON SEEN AS PARTY LEADER

Will Direct Platform Building, John T. Adams Says

COMMENTS ON HIS SPEECH

Republican and Democratic Giants in Chicago

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Political observers attach considerable importance to the visits here of Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, William Gibbs McAdoo, and John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee. Although none of them made any statement, each engaged in a series of conferences with local leaders and greeted numerous callers.

In some quarters the opinion was expressed that Senator Johnson's stay here might be prolonged a week and that shortly he would announce his decision as to whether he would become a candidate for the Republican nomination for president. He was reported as desiring full information on the Illinois political situation.

CONVENTION DISCUSSION

McAdoo, accompanied by his wife, will leave tonight for California. Chairman Adams yesterday conferred with Fred W. Upham, treasurer of Republican committee, who has expressed the belief that the Republican national convention will be brought to Chicago. Discussion of that subject was postponed until Thursday when a sub-committee of the national committee meets in Washington, it was said.

Senator Johnson was the only one of the three visitors who did not comment on former President Wilson's Armistice Day speech. The California senator said he had not read it. Chairman Adams said the former president is "still the leading Democrat of the country and he will have more to say than any other man in formulating the next Democratic platform. What he has to offer at this time is of great interest."

McAdoo said the former president "has again voiced the conscience and noble spirit of America."

Divorce Decree Unsnarls Man's Bigamy Tangle

Possible bigamy proceedings, said to have been contemplated by Mrs. Ethel Williams, nee Hooks, in Van Wert-co. will be precluded by a divorce obtained by Russell E. Williams, in Allen-co common pleas court.

Williams, the Hooks girl, and another couple drove to Van Wert Sept. 15. All had been drinking freely, it is said. It was suggested that they marry. A double ceremony was performed before a justice of peace.

Williams already had a wife and family. Wife number two was restored to her former name, by the court decree.

"You are lucky not to be on your way to Columbus," Judge Becker told the erring husband. "But for your wife's sake the court might be inclined to mete out severe punishment."

DAMAGE CLAIMS PRESENTED

Commissioners Give Petitions Over to City Solicitor

GIRL ASKS INJURY REDRESS

Sewer Actions up to Bonding Firm, Officials Believe

Damage claims growing out of the construction of the outfall and intercepting sewer on Ottawa-av and an accident to Miss Pauline Allen at Market-st and the Public Square, all amounting to $1,193.48, were presented to the city commissioners Monday night and referred by them to the city solicitor for settlement.

A. C. CaJacob and Albert A. Stolly claimed $693.46 damages alleged to have been done to properties at 663 Ottawa-av and 561-563 S. Metcalf-st by the Fred R. Jones Co. in the construction of the intercepting and outfall sewer in that section of the city.

PROPERTY DAMAGED According to the claimants the sewer, instead of benefitting their properties has depreciated them by $250 because of damages. They also claim $80.93 for materials spent in repairing damages and $105 for labor in doing the work. Likewise they claim $212.50 for materials and labor in putting sidewalks back in condition. They claim that driving heavy trucks over the walks and yards, storage of sewer building materials and blasting caused the damages they are asking.

It appears from their record that the properties were owned by Grant L. Newman and Gertrude Newman and that they sold the properties to the claimants Aug. 23 and assigned their legal claims to CaJacob and Stolly on Sept. 8.

Mayor (Cunningham) said the city is protected against this and other similar damage suits growing out of the construction of the sewer by the bond of Fred R. Jones Co., furnished by the Royal Indemnity Co. of New York which is expected to take over the job since the Jones company defaulted. Commissioners agreed that this is one of the problems for the bonding company to settle with the property owners, since the Jones company has thrown up the contract. If the city has to finish the contract the commissioners will have to go into court to compel the bonding company not only to pay for the work but also to pay the damage claims, commissioners agreed.

CITY DOCTOR'S ORDERS Miss Pauline Allen of 207 S. Metcalf-st asked $500 for the breaking of her foot at Market-st and the Public Square Sept. 13 when an automobile driven by Andrew Saylor, R. F. D. No. 1, caused an iron grating at the curb to tip up and come down on Miss Allen's foot. In her letter to the commissioners she said she was under a physician's care for eight weeks and as the result of the crushing of her foot, the doctor had ordered her not to do work requiring her to stand and this, she claimed in her letter, impaired her earning capacity.

Miss Allen presented letters from Saylor who drove the car and Jap Perrine, 1002 S. Main-st who was riding in the car, supporting her claim that the bad condition of the curb under the grating was the real cause of the accident.

Both men claim that Saylor drove up to the curb at 6:30 a. m. September 12 to discharge a passenger and that Miss Allen was standing on the curb. The wheels of the machine on reaching the edge of the grating tipped it up and it came down on Miss Allen's foot they claim.

She asks the $500 to cover doctor and hospital costs, loss of wages during eight weeks and the impairment of her earning power.

Get health—Keep health—Feel fine by eating Kellogg's Bran regularly!

Constipation and the toxic poison-lungs that come from it not only take the enthusiasm out of life, making you depressed and physically and mentally dull—but they head you into diseases such as Bright's, diabetes, rheumatism, etc. You can actually rid yourself of these dangers if you will EAT KELLOGG'S BRAN REGULARLY!—at least two tablespoonfuls daily, in chronic cases with every meal!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN.

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or laryngeal edema.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Eversharp for speed, for hard work, for permanent release from common pencil faults. Other pencils seem disappointing once you have used Eversharp. No other pencil can be like it—for Eversharp's features can't be copied.

Eversharp's perfect balance makes it a comfortable pencil to hold. And it is a pleasing pencil with which to write. The lead never wobbles—the exclusive rilled tip holds it firm. PLAN TO SPEED UP WALTON CASE

Suspended Governor's Foes Anxious for Conclusion

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS

Seek to Prevent Testimony of Many Witnesses

OKLAHOMA CITY. (United Press) Satisfied that the case they have established against Governor J. C. Walton already is strong enough to insure his impeachment, opponents of the suspended Oklahoma executive sought today to speed proceedings to their conclusion.

The board of managers of the house may rest its case against Walton at any time now and ask a vote of the senate which is sitting in a special court of impeachment.

Anti-Walton senators who sought an executive session last night to discuss charges against the suspended governor involving an unwarranted proclamation of martial law with which they were blocked but attempted today to have a proposal to this effect come from the house. The purpose of the move is to prevent Walton from introducing scores of witnesses prepared to testify to various practices by the Ku Klux Klan which the governor will claim justified martial law.

"The house that Jack bought," the present executive mansion, purchased last spring by the governor with the assistance of mortgages, has nobody wanted to buy until a public spirited man came to the scene and the solicitous aid of the late W. D. Caldwell, former Oklahoma City baker, had its day in court as Charge Number 4 of the 28 brought against the governor.

Some of Oklahoma's wealthiest citizens appeared on the stand to tell why they did not contribute to securing Walton his present residence. It was not until the last moment Monday, however, when the prosecution put Dr. E. T. Bynum on the stand that any evidence was developed tending to show suggestion of corruption in connection with the transaction.

"Doc" Bynum, as many of the senate court, sprawled at their ease in the spacious ceiling chamber called him, told of how he secured for Walton the agreement of E. W. Marland, one of the wealthiest of the state oil and corporation magnates, to buy notes offered by the governor in lieu of the $30,000 balance due to complete payment on the executive mansion. Marland himself is too ill to come to the capitol to testify and his man "Friday," Frank Lusac, a rather startled individual who was quizzed at some length by senators anxious to know how the great man conducted his business, testified.

Until Bynum took the stand, the defense had all the better of Monday's arguments. The doctor who had acted as Walton's executive counsel until appointed banking commissioner testified not only as to transactions and "understandings" connected with Walton's purchase of his home—but also fed the flames of prosecution with a story of how the governor came constantly to him for "campaign funds" after the inauguration.

The governor sat with his counsel at a table in the center of the senate chamber. His fighting pose was discarded.

Rather pale of face, beneath his jutting iron gray hair, Walton's curiously heavy leader eyes which have a suggestion of protuberance looked tired as tho the strain of the charges was telling on him.

"Rupert of Hentzau" Is Good Picture

THE widely heralded photoplay, "Rupert of Hentzau," which is a sequel to "The Prisoner of Zenda," from the pen of Sir Anthony Hope, opened a six day engagement Monday at the Sigma theatre.

From the moment the first scene is flashed on the screen, the interest of the audience is caught and it never wavers thru the succession of exciting episodes and tender love passages until the story terminates—as all good stories should—in the downfall of the villain and the promised reunion of the lovers.

The story concerns Queen Flavia, of Ruritania, deeply in love with an Englishman, Rudolph Rassendyll, who is an almost exact double of her husband, the King. Unfortunately the King is royal only in name, by nature he is coarse and selfish and in the three years of their marriage Flavia suffers almost daily insults from him. At last she can stand it no longer, and she writes a letter that she sends to her husband, and pours out her love and longing to him.

Unfortunately word of this letter reaches the ears of the dashing and unscrupulous Count, Rupert of Hentzau, who is in exile because of a former conspiracy against the King. He believes that if he can gain possession of the missive, it will enable him to reinstate himself with the King. With the aid of his cousin, Count Rasteneheim, he succeeds in stealing the epistle from the loyal Count Fritz von Farlenheim, who is carrying it to Rudolph Rassendyll. From then on, one exciting complication follows another. In his endeavor to frustrate Rupert's machinations, Rudolph swears a most, a duel. Then when the letter is destroyed and the Queen's honor is safe he declines a throne and rich in the possession of Flavia's love, he returns to England to wait for her.

The spirit of the narrative is excellently interpreted by the players who are all admirably suited for the parts they portray. Elaine Hammerstein makes a truly regal Flavia and Bert Lytell is most convincing in his difficult dual role of Rassendyll and the King. As the dashing Rupert, Lew Cody supplies one of his best characterizations.

Other celebrities in the cast are Hobart Bosworth, Claire Windsor, Bryant Washburn, Marjorie Daw, and Gertrude Astor.

The entire production is one which should please those who like a variety in their motion picture menu.

Members of Cast are "Main Street" Folk

THE members of the cast of "Main Street," the screen adaptation of Sinclair Lewis' novel dealing with Gopher Prairie and its small town folk, appearing at the Lyric, all hail from small towns themselves.

It seems that every member of the cast came from a small town. Take Florence Vidor, who is co-featured with Monte Blue. She came from a small town near Houston, Texas, and Monte Blue hails from Indiana and resembles the one in front of the tobacco shop in the screen version. Even Director Harry Beaumont is a "Main Street" product, having first seen the light of day in Abilene, Kan. Julien Josephson, the scenarist, hails from Roseburg, Ore., and remarks, "if there is any smaller or more typical small town, I'd like to see it."

"Main Street" is the story of Carol Kennicott, who comes to Gopher Prairie, a small western town, and instantly sets to changing it to her heart's desire—at least she tries to. She starts with her husband Doctor Kennicott, whom she considers boorish and crude, because he is practical. The climax is fascinatingly worked out.

In the supporting cast are Harry Myers, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Robert Gordon, Otis Harlan and Alan Hale.

"So This Is London" Pleases Faurot Patrons

Cohan's "So This Is London," delighted a large and representative audience at the Faurot Monday evening. It lived up to expectations and scored another triumph for the name of Cohan, so far as Lima is concerned.

Incidentally, perhaps, the play is illustrative of the doctrine of universal brotherhood of man; truthfully it plays on the mistaken belief between the Yankee understanding of the English aristocracy and English understanding of the spongy first families of America. It dares to blast ignorant faith, in the most pleasant and delightful manner; stronger and to the point in such a way as to be pleasant received both by American and English theatregoers; more forcible than all the sermons ever preached against universal hatred.

There goes out a love for the little English girl and a strong admiration for the American boy. No one finds fault, against the better understanding that love matches are made in Heaven, and that national enmities for nothing Americans wrongly find favor, with American mannerisms of Americanism of affairs and finance, and it is deliciously refreshing when he tells of the slow methods of English business; it's equally ludicrous when Draper tells the Englishman he was born on July Fourth and the information has no significance, until Beauchamp finally after a long deliberation, says "So you were born on Washington's birthday?" To sum up the work of Arthur Goodrich, the author, it is but to say that he tackled a big subject; one of universal greatness, and handled it with the touch of the master; less genius would have made it ridiculous; as it stands, it is one of the most delightful and satisfactory comedies ever seen on the Faurot stage.

And it is Cohanesque in every particular; adequate company; perhaps selected with the strict attention to types; complete stage settings and every detail looked carefully after which goes to make an otherwise delightful play lacking in nothing, equal to the Cohan trade mark which was branded plainly on every single requisite.

"Wildflower" Opens at Faurot

It is certain that Lima is coming into her share of good things, as far as select attractions are concerned. Tuesday and Wednesday times Arthur Hammerstein's "Wildflower" it would be sufficient if the name of this prominent producer alone was attached to the offering, but it must be borne in mind that this production has met with highest favor among metropolitan theatregoers; was one of the headline hits of the New York season, a theatre which counts a greater number of real musical successes than any other theatre in America.

Mr. Hammerstein will offer aside from a magnificent production in every single essential, scenery, elaborate settings; an added symbol and an attractive chorus, the orchestra, well known and highly classed among leading singers of the city, and supporting her is the usual high class Hammerstein cast. "Wildflower" is in three elaborate acts it is known in many cities as "The Bambalina Show." Its music gives promise of giving the highest satisfaction. The entire composition is by Herbert Stothart and Vincent Youmans. He have turned out a sprightly score that at times rises to the level of Grand opera in quality. It is likely that Lima musical folks will come away humming "Bambalina," "Wildflower" and "April Blossoms" tuneless and catchy. Mr. Cliff Neff, of the Casino Theatre, New York leads the augmented orchestra.

BRIDGE-TEA IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

ONE of the informal affairs of the week was the bridge-tea given on Tuesday by Mrs. Carl Means at her home, 835 W. Market-st. Tables for the bridge were arranged throughout the living rooms of the house, where flicker baskets filled with yellow and white chrysanthemums had been used attractively.

After an hour or so of cards, Mrs. Means served a two-course tea, yellow and white predominating in the appointments. Assisting was Mrs. Frank Kennedy.

Guests at the affair were Mrs. William Ayres, Mrs. William Noonan, Mrs. Guy Means, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Mrs. Frank Seals, Mrs. T. A. Welch, Mrs. J. J. Beller, William Allison, Mrs. James Anderson, Mrs. Wilbur Mumaugh, Mrs. Carl Howdle, Mrs. J. W. Blackburn, Mrs. W. C. Northrup, Mrs. C. A. Roberts, Mrs. E. J. Curtis, Mrs. Walter Ranz, Mrs. Robert Connelly, Miss Mary Matthews of Kenton and Mrs. Otis Poole of Waynesfield.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart, Will you please try and help me out of my trouble. I am a very young girl, but I can't seem to get along very well. I seem all right for the first three or four months after we were married but since that I have acted somewhat strange. He says he loves me but does not in the least show it. He very seldom kisses me or puts his arm around me unless I ask him to. Everytime I speak to any one outside his relation he gets mad and always hawks me out for it. He never goes anywhere with me unless he just has to and then he always walks out next to the curb because he knows I won't walk out there. He gets me anything I want that we can afford but that doesn't begin to make up for the heartaches he causes me. Please don't tell me to be patient because I have tried to be patient for almost a year and a half. He nearly drove me from him a year ago with his actions but he is getting worse. If you can, please tell me a way I can change his ways.

IF YOU have been as patient as you can and stood your unhappiness and his neglect, the only thing I can suggest your doing is to be just as independent as your husband has been. Why not seek employment? You might be able to get a very pleasant position, which would keep you busy all day and keep your mind off your home affairs. Keep your home but do not try to do things to please your husband for he is evidently most unappreciative. I feel sure that when he sees that you can be as indifferent and independent as he has been and that you are happy even though he is casting no favors upon you, he will seek your forgiveness for his heartless actions.

Dear Miss Smart, I am a constant reader of your column and see where you have helped so many people. I would like a little advice myself from you. My hair was coming out and so everybody said I was balding and I did. For some time it was all tint and now it makes no difference how often or anything about it. I wash my head, it is always oily, dirty and my scalp itches so. I am ashamed to be in the presence of others and I have combed with a fine comb but results are never before was I bothered with such a thing. Please advise me what to do. If I go to a hair dresser what would scalp treatment cost?

Could you tell me where to buy scraps of goods cheap for comfort pieces, any kind will do. Thank you.

Your case is truly an unusual one. I would suggest going to a local beauty parlor and asking their advice. The fees they charge are not high and they can give you treatments if you wish or can recommend some good tonic for you to purchase at a drug store. Wash no time intruding in the condition of your scalp and hair for it is no doubt growing worse all the time.

Watch advertisements in the paper for remnant sales at the dry goods stores. Usually on bargain day, you can find various counters filled with small remnants that you could use for a comfort.

Dear Miss Smart, I am 18 years old and hope you can help me. I am not considered good looking and every school boy I dance I so of. I never have a good time because the boys like good looking girls.

What I want to know is, how can I make myself more attractive to the boys and have good times like other girls?

I cannot think that it is because you are not considered unattractive that you are unpopular among the boys. It's your personality, noise, conversational qualities that count more than your looks.

Throw yourself into the affair and have as much fun in one evening as you possibly can. Don't think of yourself at all—remember the rest of the party. In other words, don't think of yourself as an important member—around whom the whole party is revolving. Think of yourself merely as an individual—one guest out of a large group. Study poise; when you enter the room, don't think everybody is looking at you, they aren't. Look at them and instead of thinking they are talking about you, go up and talk to them.

Keep your mind active and it will add much to your personality. Talk well and listen equally as well.

Interest yourself in others and you'll find how interested they are in you.

But, above all, get the idea out of your mind that your seemingly unpopularity is due to your not being beautiful. Of course, make yourself as attractive as possible at all times, but there are other things more important.

"The Transformation of our Educational System," was the subject of the intensely interesting talk given by Mrs. Robert C. Morris, of Toledo, before the members of the Delphos Lotus, Arbutus and Woman's clubs at their second joint meeting of the year, Monday afternoon. The gathering was held in the Crystal room of Hotel Arbonne. Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell and the members of the Woman's club were the afternoon's hostesses.

Mrs. Morris told how the newer methods in education are gradually taking the place of the "three R's"—reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic, and that the time is not far distant when the child will be trained along those lines for which it shows natural aptitude. An informal discussion followed Mrs. Morris' lecture. Tea was served on the mezzanine at five o'clock. Mrs. T. K. Jacobs and Mrs. Mitchell presided. Those assisting were Mrs. W. L. SEMI-PRO LEADERS PLAN STATE WIDE ASSOCIATION

Southworth Included In Deal Goes To Giants While Bancroft Will Manage Braves

SOUTHWORTH GOES TO GIANTS

NEW YORK—On the eve of his departure today for a month's stay in Europe, Manager John J. McGraw of the New York National League club completed one of the biggest player deals of his career, which, among other moves, sends Davey Bancroft, his captain and shortstop to the management of the Boston National League club.

For Bancroft the Giants receive Outfielder Billy Southworth, the captain of the Braves and one of the outstanding gardeners of the major leagues. It was officially announced that the deal was a man for man without money bonus, but the Giant manager made no secret of his purpose to perform a service for his old pal and premier pitcher, Mathewson.

Landis Will Propose New Rules At League Meeting To Benefit Losing Clubs

CHICAGO—A proposal that Commissioner K. M. Landis and not the league presidents shall have jurisdiction to determine disputes in which major league umpires may be involved is among several to be made to the joint meeting of major leagues here December 12, according to Mr. Landis. Heretofore the umpires have taken their disputes or grievance to the league presidents.

The commissioner said that among other amendments to be submitted by him for changes in rules governing players will be a suggestion that the forty player limit rule be made to exclude a non-playing manager, coaches and players who have retired or been declared ineligible. No club would be allowed more than five players who are under contract for future service and from June 15 to August 31 of each year the number of players in active service could not exceed 25.

Suggested changes in rules governing exchange of players and of distribution of proceeds of world series money also are to be brought before the December meeting, the commissioner said.

When two or more clubs seek a player who is about to receive his unconditional release, preference would go to the club lowest in league standing. If more than thirty days after start of the playing season, and if not, then in reverse order of standing at the close of the prior season, according to another suggestion.

Regarding the world's series games, the commissioner will ask that the rules covering the gross receipts be changed. After the fifteen per cent which forms the players' pool from the first four games is deducted, the commissioner desires that the clubs, instead of dividing the balance, shall receive an even split after they defray all expenses incident to the series. Each club, however, would pay one half of its share into the league treasury.

(By HENRY L. FARRELL.)
NEW YORK (United Press).—Reorganization of the New York Giants, promised by John McGraw and considered vital if the team is to be a factor in the next National League pennant race, has been started by another one of those well-known "Boston to New York" deals. In the first of the shake-up that McGraw promised after the world's series, the Giants sent Dave Bancroft, Casey Stengel and Bill Cunningham to the Braves for Billy Southworth and Joe Oeschger.

Bancroft, who succeeded Fred Mitchell as manager of the Braves and Mitchell, it is understood will purchase a minor league franchise. In announcing the deal last night McGraw said the New York club had three purposes in making the swap—to strengthen a weakness in the outfield, to give Bancroft a chance to better himself and to help Christy Mathewson's Braves.

Two of the purposes obviously were accomplished. Bancroft did better himself, because he has a chance to further his career and he was given a two year contract at a salary with a bonus to cover what his share of two more world series would have been.

The Braves also were strengthened by the addition of Bancroft, the best shortstop in the National League and a playing manager. Cunningham, one of the most promising young outfielders in the league and Casey Stengel, one of the best workers in the business.

The Giants, if no more deals are to follow, certainly got none the better of the deal.

Before sailing for Europe today with Mrs. McGraw and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jennings, the Giant leader, said he might make another big deal at the winter meeting in Chicago.

He said the deal with St. Louis for Rogers Hornsby was hopelessly off because the Cardinals demanded Frank Frisch and other players and he said he wouldn't give Frisch for Hornsby on an even swap.

Very little trading material is now left for the Giants to offer and it seems almost sure that Hornsby will not play next season with the Giants.

FIRPO IN ANGRY MOOD
BUENOS AIRES.—A dispatch to La Nación from La Paz, Bolivia, says that Luis Angel Firpo incurred the displeasure of the residents of that city by his indifferent attitude toward the enthusiastic reception they accorded him.

Firpo, the dispatch says, was in a sulky mood when he arrived in La Paz railway station. He was met by cheering crowds who were displeased when their idol hastily fled in an automobile from their presence.

The correspondent asserts that Firpo was displeased when on his way to the Bolivian capital he read a La Paz newspaper which protested against his scheduled exhibition bout in the municipal theatre. The match was not held.

Tarzan Topper, of 2010 N. Fourteenth-st is manager. Write for time and terms to him.

Yank management announce that they believe they will stand pat, so far as getting any more players from the Boston Red Sox are concerned. It seems that the Yank management have agreed to retain the 1923 lineup. If they do, it will be the first time in eight years.

OHIO TO HAVE ASSOCIATION

COLUMBUS—Ohio, next spring, will have a state association of semi-pro baseball teams if plans formulated by semi-pro leaders at a meeting here are carried out.

The plan is to divide the state into four or five sections, establish a championship team in each section and then have the sectional champions play against each other for the state title.

L. A. Ripley of Cincinnati, has been named temporary chairman of the organization, and D. E. Rose, of Columbus, temporary secretary.

REMINISCENCES OF AN OLD TIME BALLPLAYER

By "Lefty" Shields

How "Lefty" Shields came to be famous in baseball, which will appear exclusively on the sport page of The Lima News, in several installments, could be told by no one else but himself. Whether this is true of not will be left entirely to the judgment of the reader. In presenting these stories of the ballplayer and erstwhile newsboy, apologies are respectfully extended to Ring Lardner, as well as other noted reformers of the old diction and spelling of the disciples of Webster. Perhaps "Lefty" may become an authority in time to come, who can tell.

It may be a coincidence but "Lefty" and Babe Ruth look with pride to their alma mater, which happens in this instance to be the same—St. Marys, of Baltimore. He begins with his early struggles at that institution.

It was in the year of 1890 at the age of 14 Lefty was a Pupul At The Parochial school he was picked out to be the best left hander that any parochial school had in them days they played ball every day and Lefty pitched every day in three week winning 14 games and lost 5 games and then I many times pitch against St. Marys Industrial School Stars. St. Marys at that time Hadd a Wonderful Base ball club they had Kiester Hayes Chandler Lefty High Pugey Durham Thes Guys that I am mention has gone up in to the Big leuge butt I won 5 to 3 but it was a hard fourth battle.

Boxing Show At Kenton Nov. 14

There will be a boxing show given under the auspices of the American Legion, at Kenton, Wednesday night. Wallace Camper, who is matchmaker, called on the Lima News, and stated that he had expected of these teams (and it is matched Al Dundee to box Tommy Kilbane, 10 rounds. They will meet with the same record as marked at 116 pounds ringside. Don Box-

Both the Church and Sunday school basketball teams of the First United Brethren church are called to practice Wednesday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. News, and Thomas announces that much is expected of going thru the season with the same record as marked the playing of last season

As A Matter of Fact

BY HARRY BRADBURY
Sports Editor

As regards the report that Roger Hornsby would be found playing in a Giant uniform next season, suffice be it that it was premature. Sifting the report down to cases, it happens that when McGraw was in consultation with Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey of the St. Louis club, the Hornsby deal was mentioned. To add impetus to the story, it is known that the Giant leader is decidedly sweet on Hornsby, because he knows his worth both as a batter and fielder. You can't blame him. But so are the St. Louis officials. It leaks out that in talking over the deal, the only way was to exchange Hornsby for Frisch.

What he makes is that the track must be in good condition. There will be no argument after Saturday, is Videmann right? But it must be remembered that Zev is the greatest money getter there is on the American turf. The hunting season opens next Thursday, and those who declare they know, say it is going to be a humdinger of a season for there are rabbits, pheasants, partridges and grouse in abundance. So it's the time to get the old gun, get 'er in prime condition and see that the hunting togs are all ready. The reason that a good season is looked forward to is because it has been a mild one and there have been no disastrous storms which kept the ducks and shore birds from migrating southward. And there is an abundance of cotton tails. It seems certain that there will be many satisfied hunters as they see ducks along the shores of marshes, lakes and streams in their search for rabbits.

But when you start out to be good sportsmen, observe the unwritten laws of hunters; shut the farmer's gates; ask him before you begin to hunt on his property, and if you build a fire in the woods be certain you put it out before you leave. Look ahead before you shoot, don't put some other hunter or some inquisitive stranger who might be coming towards you. Observe the law and the bag limit, and be sure to carry your hunting license with you, and don't forget to have it handy so that you can show it to the proper authorities if required to do so.

HEADS OF BIBLE CLASSES CLASH

Cheating in Attendance Contest is Charged

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (Associated Press).—Officers of the Kansas City Men's Bible Class said today they would not continue the controversy growing out of the attendance contest with the Business Men's Bible Class of Longbeach, Calif., which brought charges of "cheating" on both sides.

N. W. Dible, president of the local class, which claims the world's record for attendance at a religious service expressed regret that the charges had become public, declaring that the good accomplished by the race might be impaired.

The first allegation of cheating came yesterday when J. W. Lin-enfelter, a representative of the Kansas City class, asserted at Los Angeles that Longbeach had padded its attendance figures for last Sunday. Lin-enfelter said a check made under his direction by a score of private detectives who used adding machines showed the Longbeach attendance was only 13,930, whereas the total was announced as 31,034. The count at Kansas City was 52,131, according to calculation of the local class officers.

Then Mayor Buwum of Longbeach, who is president of the class there, charged that Kansas City had cheated in not observing the rule that the classes must meet in one place.

Dible denied the allegation, explaining that it was necessary to hold an overflow meeting because all the crowd could not be accommodated in Convention Hall. In reality it was one class, because the services were broadcast to those who jammed the streets about the hall.

The contest which had extended over five weeks, ended last Sunday with Kansas City the victor.

ROGER HAWISHER NAMED TO WITTENBERG PAPER

Roger Hawisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hawisher, 114 S. Baxter-st., has been appointed to the circulation department of the Wittenberg Witt, a humorous magazine published by the students of Wittenberg College at Springfield. The magazine has started its second year with 1,500 circulation and its growth has been so phenomenal that many additions have been made to its staff this year. The second issue will be published just before the Thanksgiving game with Ohio Northern.

Hawisher graduated from Central high school with the class of 1921 and is now in his second year at Wittenberg. He is a member of the Beta fraternity and prominent in campus activities.

BWARE OF UNLICENSED CANVASSERS, IS WARNING

Warning was issued Tuesday by Secretary J. E. Morton of the board of commerce to householders against house to house canvassers for goods which are handled, he says, just as cheaply by the Lima merchants as by the out-of-town concerns.

The warning, he said, applied to those canvassers who have not obtained the necessary city license to carry on their trade. If the city gives such canvassers a license, Morton says that there is no way they can be stopped unless it is found they use misrepresentation and then he will ask the city, he said, to revoke the license.

Morton promises a close watch of all house to house canvassers for goods and the first move that is made indicating deception by any canvasser will mean prosecution, Norton said Tuesday.

DENIES DRIVING CAR WHILE INTOXICATED

William Lamphar, arrested Monday on a charge of driving while intoxicated, Tuesday pleaded not guilty and was placed under $250 bail for trial on Nov. 16.

Police charge he was responsible for an accident Monday on Central-av. in which a truck driven by E. J. Brogee, 145 S. Jackson-st., was slightly damaged.

MERCHANTS WILL DISCUSS SHOPPING FOR CHRISTMAS

Members of the retail merchants group of the Board of Commerce will meet Tuesday at 4 p. m. to discuss plans for early Christmas shopping. Some scheme of impressing upon the public the desirability of doing their Christmas shopping early will be discussed. Merchants are planning to offer the best bargains that it has been possible to give Christmas shoppers in years, it was said at the offices Tuesday morning.

Another plan to be discussed is that of urging George Sheridan of Columbus to Lima to address the November meeting of the retail merchants. Sheridan is executive secretary of the state retail merchants council.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Our idea of less than nothing at all is to spend the winter evenings studying Esperanto.

"I received nothing in the last campaign but the public's confidence," says a successful candidate. We presume he didn't spend any of it.

"Gas now 14 cents," says headline. It is gasoline, however, and not natural gas.

Cleveland can kill itself in a cemetery. Evidently he believed in cutting out unnecessary work wherever possible.

The next time Israel Zangwill makes it over there, those parts we want to accompany him. He says he was offered a drink in every home he visited.

Whatever you can say about the German people, they will not be on a diet when Uncle Sam calls them to dinner this winter.

It is said that the crowd that attended a church service in an Indiana saloon absconded with the back door.

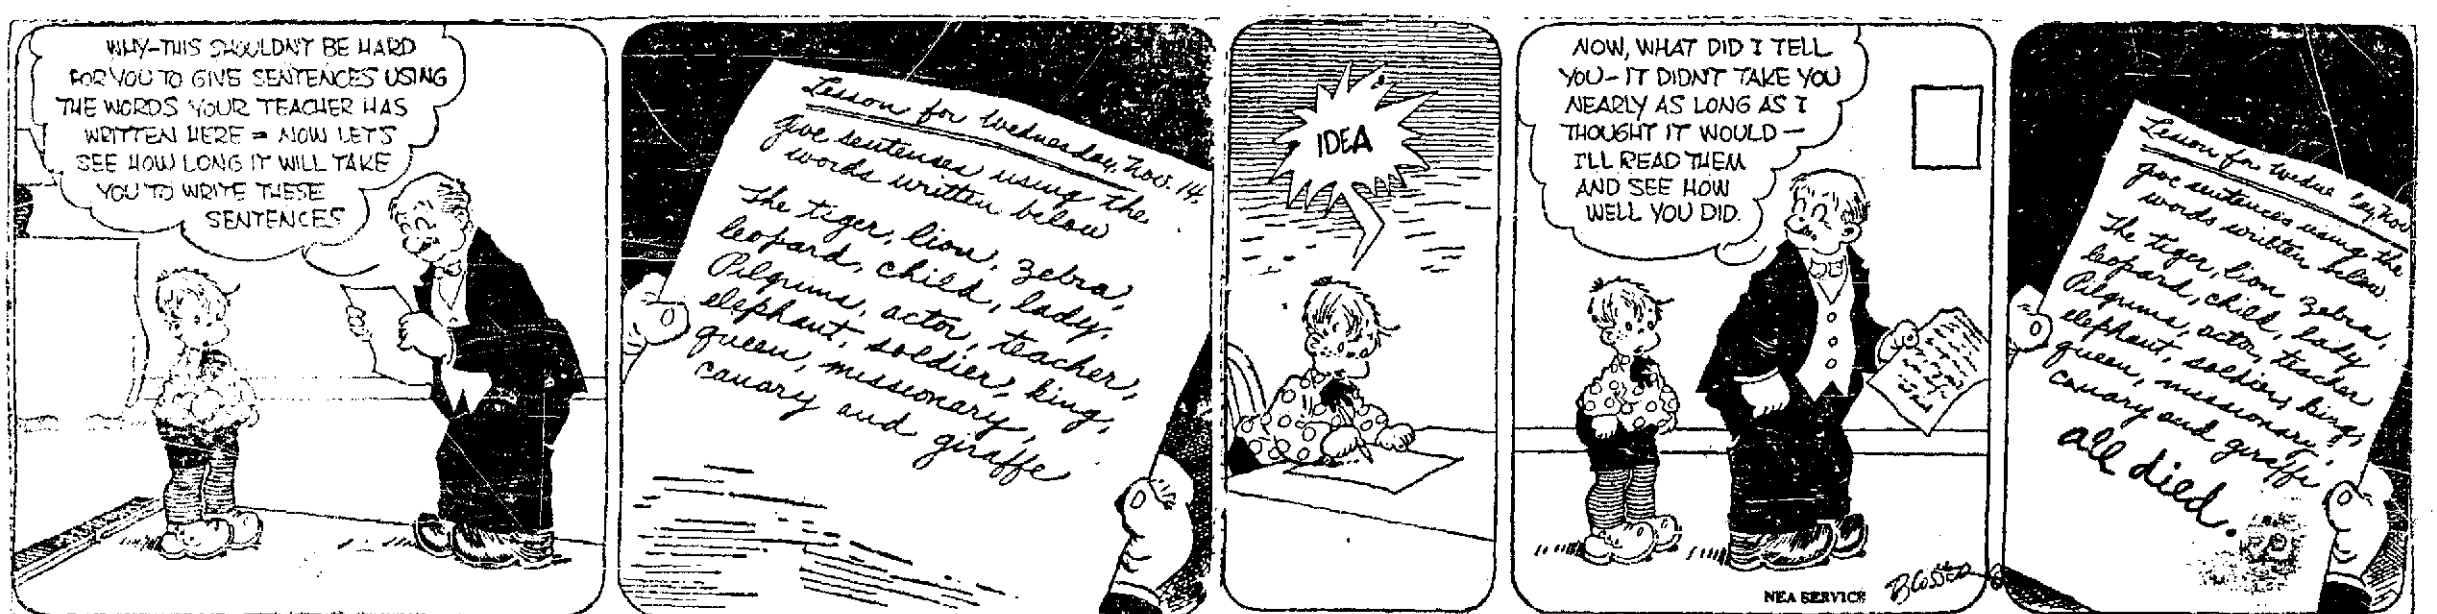

Generally hair tonic is sold on the merit of its fragrant perfume. Or its beautiful color.

Some Lima merchants have the idea that their customers have decided to pay their debts when Germany pays hers.

Cheerful news. The Congressional Record will soon start coming to our desk again.
